don't forget there's a camera holder at the top of your DayDreamer® if you want to use a video camera (we've used an ultra-fine mesh specifically designed for all camera lenses). the holder has a strap that will allow you to secure your camera.

if you want to add a fan (even though we have 6 air vents), there's a pocket near the bottom to hold it. is it really needed? no. but occasionally AC goes out, so we thought parents might appreciate the option.

one person can assemble the DayDreamer®, but it's easier to do with two people.

if you don't like videos, try the following steps:

step 1

lay fabric flat so all teal hooks (2), white hooks (2), and yellow buckles (4) are visible. white and teal hooks in the center, yellow buckles in the corners.

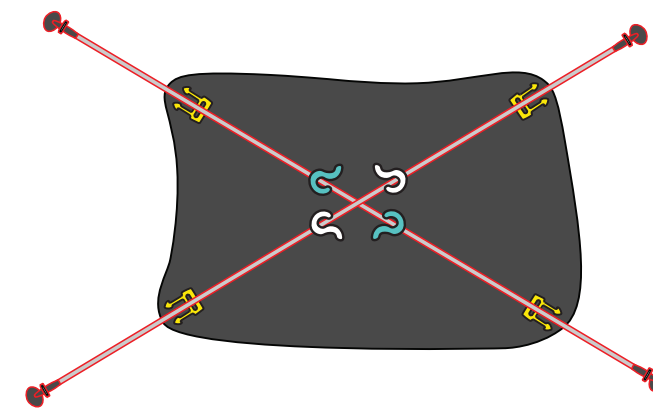

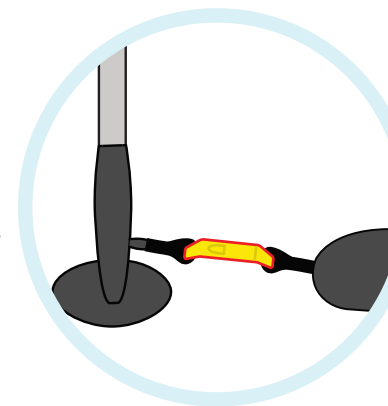

step 2

fully assemble both tent poles and lay poles diagonally across fabric in an 'X' shape.

step 3

secure each yellow buckle to its corresponding foot.

step 4

raise poles into the shape of the final dome and attach the teal/white hooks to the center of the poles so that fabric now hangs.
